

GTCASA Saturday Club Term 3 2017 Juniors aged 5—7 years

SciWorld is a South Australian not-for-profit organisation full of people who are passionate about science. We provide science outreach programs in various locations around Adelaide and South Australia. We gratefully acknowledge all our supporters and volunteers who make it possible to take science out and about.

We need a minimum of 17 students registered and paid for to present these sessions so BOOK NOW!

Saturday 5th August: Palaeontology

It's all about bones and fossils! Learn about ancient animals and bone identification. Practice your own palaeontology skills and dig up some bones, and then sort them for identification. See, feel, draw and make your own fossils! It's exciting, educational fun! You're going to love meeting our real Palaeontologist!

Saturday 19th August: Archaeology

Do all Archaeologists look like Indiana Jones? No! Come and find out about archaeological sites and get down and dirty digging up your own relics to discover how archaeologists teach us about the past. You'll get to meet a living archaeologist too, but as for what he looks like....well, you'll have to wait and see!

Saturday 2nd September: Inside Out—Bodies & Brains (with GTCASA AGM)

We all have them, but do you know how to use them? Explore the world of bodies and brains and learn to make your own lungs, moveable robotic hands and more in this workshop which will keep you wanting to learn more about what's under your skin!

Saturday 16th September: Weird Science!

Sometimes Science seems pretty weird and we'll get to explore a whole world of weird science in this hands on workshop. Learn about chromatography, slime, tricks and illusions. We guarantee you'll learn something new and will have fun being a mini scientist yourself
